Media Influence on Teenagers

Many people think that teenagers are influenced by media. Some of it is true, and some of it is not true. Most of my friends are not influenced by media. They are non-violent teenagers that are in fact very happy, and like to have fun. Some teenagers, however, are influenced by media. They see what their favorite celebrity is wearing such as shoes, clothes, and jewelry, and they want to have the same things. I, on the other hand, have not been influenced by media because my brothers always tell me about everything they see and hear on TV.
