

The reason why I want Barack Obama to be our next President is because we have never had a Hawaiian President. Obama also said that he was going to make big changes like reduce oil prices. And he said that it was not too late to stop the war. I think we should give him a chance and see how he is going to do. Obama even played basketball with the U.S. military. So now, we should just wait to see who our next President is going to be.
