

I want Barack Obama to win because they say that he is going to be able to help the immigrants and Mexican people. He also attended Harvard Law School, and he was a research assistant for Larry Tribe. Obama was elected as a United States Senator, and he wrote a book, "Dreams Of My Father." It was published in 1995.

I hope Obama defeats John McCain because that way, there would be more help in the United States. I heard in the news that Obama had more votes than McCain. I was really excited because they said he might be the next President. I want him to win because he will improve our relations with the Muslim world. And he has a plan to manage the oil reserve. I hope Obama wins.

Jennifer Herrera, 8th Grade, Junior Academy, Raul Yzaguirre School For Success, Houston, Texas