

I think Barack Obama would make a great President because he is the first African-American to be nominated by a major political party for President. He has also been in school, a community organizer, a professor and now a U.S. Senator. A man with that much knowledge and years of experience should be President.

Raymundo Izaguirre, 8th Grade, Junior Academy, Raul Yzaguirre School For Success, Houston, Texas