

In my opinion, I think Barack Obama should be President because he has hope and takes responsibility for his actions for this country. I think he will become a great President because he is going to make history as the first African-American, if elected, and he is going to make a difference in this country. He will be better than George Bush and Bill Clinton because he has a lot of ideas about what this country wants.

Robert Silva, 7th Grade, Junior Academy, Raul Yzaguirre School For Success, Houston, Texas