

Bullying

I think that bullying is a very bad thing that kids are learning from other people. Bullying is one of the most common problems in school, and we are trying to stop it, but it is very difficult. In the United States, bullying has become one of the most common problems in school, but we don't hear complaints because kids are scared to talk.

I was a girl who was being bullied, but the worst thing is that I didn't talk because I was scared. I was almost going to kill myself, but I thought I was being crazy. My friends tried to convince me to talk, but I refused to. My friends always told me that if I didn't say anything, they were going to tell someone, but when I saw a bully bullying someone else, I decided to talk. The teachers, my bullies and I had a conference with our parents and the principal. When we were talking, I learned that it is never good to stay quiet because there is help waiting.

I really think that we should not stay quiet because we are the ones suffering and not them. I also think that bullying is very aggressive and that we should stop it, but we need you. In most schools, kids don't talk because they think that something worse is going to happen to him/her and also because their bullies go to the same school. And they might also be neighbors. I think that bullying should stop now before it gets worse. We are in a very difficult time, but we have to try to stop it. Many people think that it is impossible to stop it, but if we all unite, we can stop bullying. There are many types of bullying, but the common one is cyber bullying.

Diana Bernal, 7th Grade, RYSS