

Bullying

What do some people think of bullying? Do you think bullying is okay? What I say about bullying is that it is not okay to do these things. Some people don't even really care when and what they do, they just go ahead and do it. If I saw someone doing that to a person such as a child, I would literally do something about it. What if it was your child or someone familiar to you? You wouldn't just stand there and tell nobody, you would do something to change that person and change that person's life. Some kids don't even tell anyone when they are bullied. They are scared of what's going to happen. Their situation may get worse. The main reason people bully is because of their life style with their parents. Bullies are selfish people. They have no other things to do but to pick on younger or weaker people than them.

I was bullied a few times by some older girls. They picked on me because I was new to the volleyball team, and my practicing wasn't very good. They kept picking on me until I was fired up with all those comments they kept saying such as "You stink!", "You are ugly and little!" I stood up for myself, and said, "Who do you think you are? You are barely 14, just a year or two difference in our ages!" They didn't say a word. They thought because I was just this "little" girl, they could pick on me. I defended myself like any other person should do.

Don't ever let anyone pick on you. Because if you don't do anything about it, the person that is picking on you is going to think that he can do this because you are not going to tell anybody, or you're not telling anyone. So stand up, and speak out if you're in that position. If you are bullied, tell someone. If you don't do anything about it, the situation is going to get worse, and that bully is going to keep on picking on you until you explode. So help others, and help yourself. Start something in your school, community, and neighborhood. Whatever you do, it will make a big difference, and change someone's life.
