

Computers are very important things in our lives. Because without computers, we wouldn't be able to do many things like easily get information about history and social studies. And also the computer is one thing that has helped us in our lives. Computer history started by the development of the computer by Professor John Vincent Atanasoff and graduate student Cliff Berry in 1937 and continued to be developed until 1942 at the Iowa State College (now Iowa State University). On October 19, 1973, US Federal Judge Earl R. Larson signed his decision. That's how John Vincent was the inventor of the electronic digital computer.
