

We use computers for different things these days, for example school, work, business, and a lot more other important things. For anything you need to know, the computer is there to teach you. Students use the computer for learning how to type the right way, and find out more. We can look at a lot of things that may seem interesting to us. We can look for books, and search information about other countries, and educational information. Computers really help us understand more and learn more. Today, we have a lot of modern computers like laptops.

Amanda Del Castillo, 7th grade, Raul Yzaguirre School For Success