

Computers are a big part of history because they help with people's jobs, home offices, and in school. And computers help students find out about history. Computers are also a part of history. The first computer was invented in 1936 to 1938. It was invented by Germany's Konrad Zuse. He invented it in his own living room at his parents' house. It was considered to be the first electrical binary programmable computer.

John Dominguez, 7th grade, Raul Yzaguirre School For Success