

What has history come to? We have been looking at a lot of amazing inventions over a period of time. What has been the most important invention over our history? The computer is one of the most used objects . Computers have been helping people with many questions, homework, interests, and even for fun.

Since 1936 when the first computer was invented, people have increased the amount of research made in the world. Some people research about many places in the world, viruses and much more. Computers are very important to our history. Seniors, kids and teens use them. Computers are very important to our future because they are very helpful.

Computers are our source of information. Thanks to computers, we have become more interested in many more things in our lives. We should use them carefully because they are history for all of us.
