

Computers are a big part of society. They help people communicate, work easier and can help save lives. People send e-mail, voice mail and video to each other as a part of communication. Some people actually do the taxes, homework, project, or just plain work on the computer to make it easier. Computers save lives in hospitals by helping people breath, pump blood and overcome fear.

Alberto Orozco, 7th grade, Raul Yzaguirre School For Success