

Computers are a wonderful use of technology. If we did not have computers or this experience, it would be difficult to research anything. Computers are part of most everyone's daily life. This technology is a big help to businesses, schools, and libraries. They are a part of education. Computers have been out for a long time, but these days, they are more high tech.

How would you research history on a computer? The first thing would be to go on the Internet and search for any type of history that you are looking for. Computers are not hard to use. They are very simple and organized devices that help us, and computers are meant to give you information. The research of history can be more advanced if you research it on the computer. Computers give you more details and information to read about.

Jazlyn Trevino, 7th grade, Raul Yzaguirre School For Success