

This picture makes me feel scared, but it's pretty cool though. This snake is kind of creepy in this picture, but it makes me realize how the most beautiful animals can be a threat to your life. Even though this is a Corn snake, it might kill you. It also reminds me of my Python. It was so weird, because it would always be in the corner like this Corn snake.

This picture is kind of cool because the plants are growing in the water. There is no soil, just water and an old tree stump. It makes me wonder if this plant can do the impossible, then so can we. We people have no idea what is possible, and what isn't. It's pretty amazing. It reminds me that anyone and anything can make a miracle.

This is a hole in an old tree. I took this picture because it shows how anything can be made a home. It can't be made a home by us, but the smallest critters can make it a home. I like to compare this picture to a cozy fireplace. To a spider, it would be scary. For a person, it would be nice.

This picture makes me feel sad because this woman was a mother. Her children must miss her dearly. She must have been a great mother. This also reminds me of my aunt, and how she also had kids. When she died, she was precious to each and every one of us, especially her kids. So, this picture makes me sad, only sad.

This is a beautiful plant, isn't it? It's also one of the most dangerous. This is the Poison Ivy plant, not your very best friend. This picture keeps reminding me that every little thing that looks sweet can also be sour. Everything and anything can be dangerous.

This picture makes me feel sad for the turtle because it's so little and so innocent. I also think this is really cool. I have never seen a turtle's shell like this, or the full skeleton. I'm also pretty amazed that the turtle is whole. Most skeletons are really scattered. I'm kind of grossed out by it because it's not easy to see the turtle's remains. It looks like the Houston Audubon Society really takes care of it. I can tell because it is in a case and on a table. It also has a ribbon. This is the right place for the bones.

When I took this picture, I wasn't that close. Do you see the little cabin there or something? I don't really know what it is. It's a good thing to keep my mind on. I look at this picture all the time, and I wonder what it is.

This picture makes me wonder what the church looked like, and what it was like to be inside of it. Can you see the white rocks in the background? They might not mean anything to someone else but for me, they stand for “fallen ground” ... something historical that has gone.
